Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

rounded vs. jagged

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

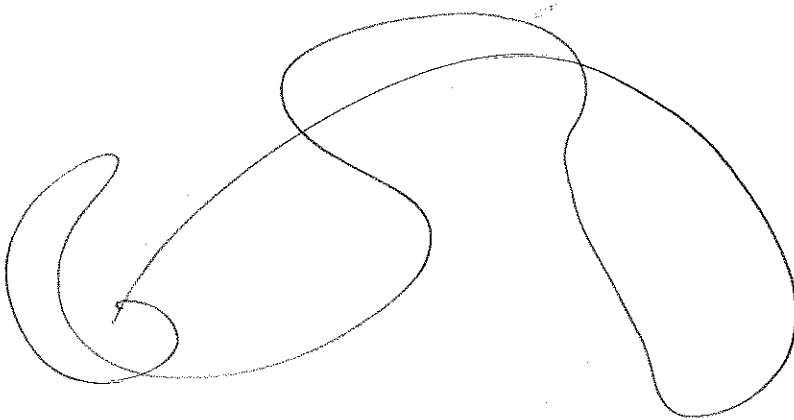

Sharp angles

Your age: 18 Your gender: F

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

Angry is more rigid & pointed, Sad is more round

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

It is the opposite of the angry in regards to the edges.

Your age: 19 Your gender: Female

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

- More lines + more intersections
- Sharp angles
- mainly based on triangles

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

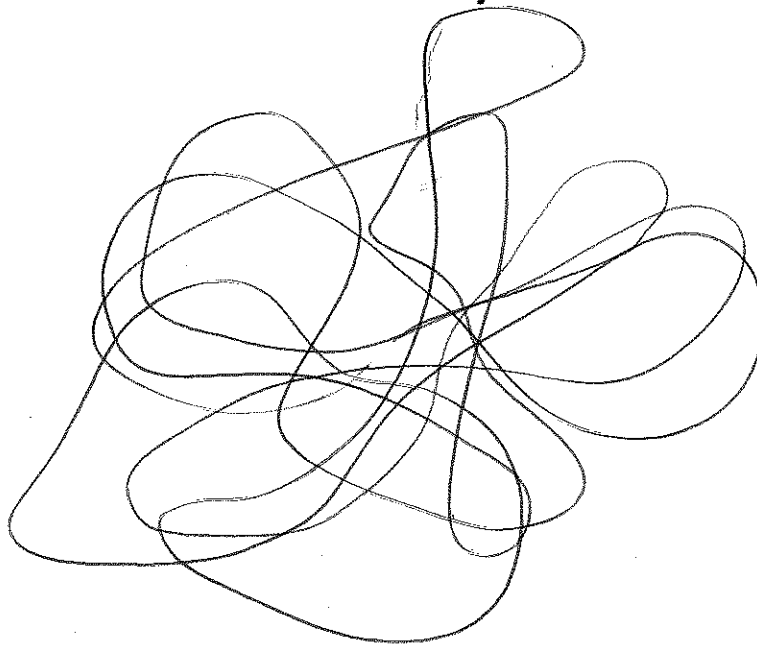

The drawing that I drew suggests a sense of chaos through the many different parts and accurately displays the sense of helplessness + frustration that one feels when angry.

Your age: 20 Your gender: F

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

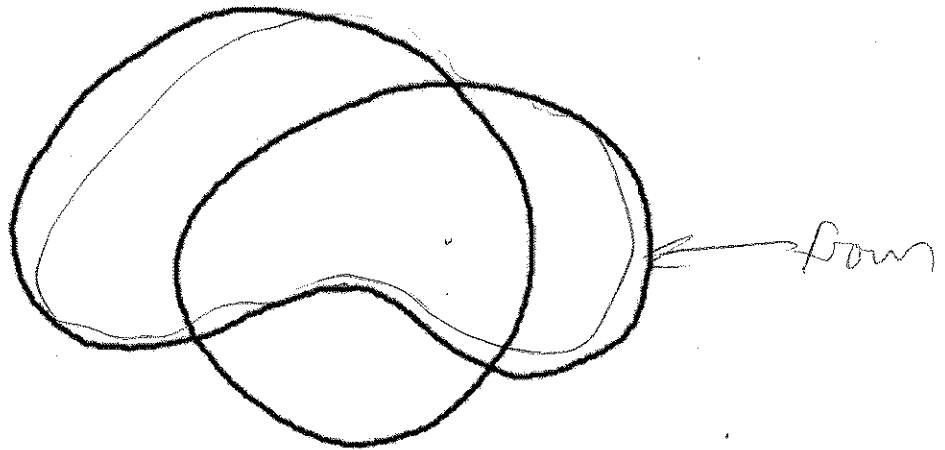

More frenzied

Was supposed to appear like it was oriented up, although the shape doesn't really depict that

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

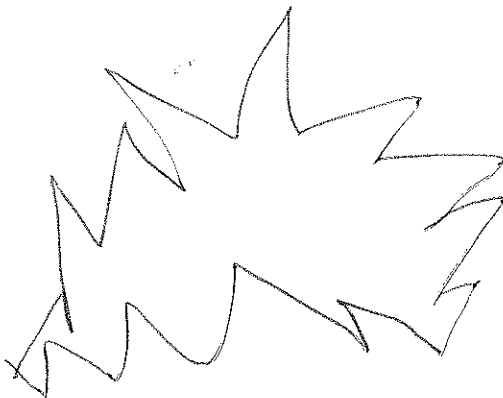

More lines made the shape seem more confrontational. If it appears to be looking up, it would also appear less defeated and have more emotion.

Your age: 19 Your gender: M

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

- One is round, and shaped like a frown → more like being sad.
- Anger is more jagged, sharp.

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

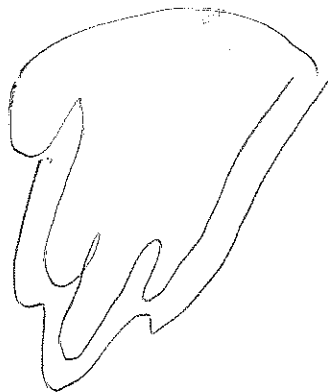

It reminded me of the sharp bell in the ambulance when it was angry looking.

Your age: 21 Your gender: M

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

- The shape provided has sharp frontier edges, and is random in its direction
- Mine is smooth steady predictable and curvy

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

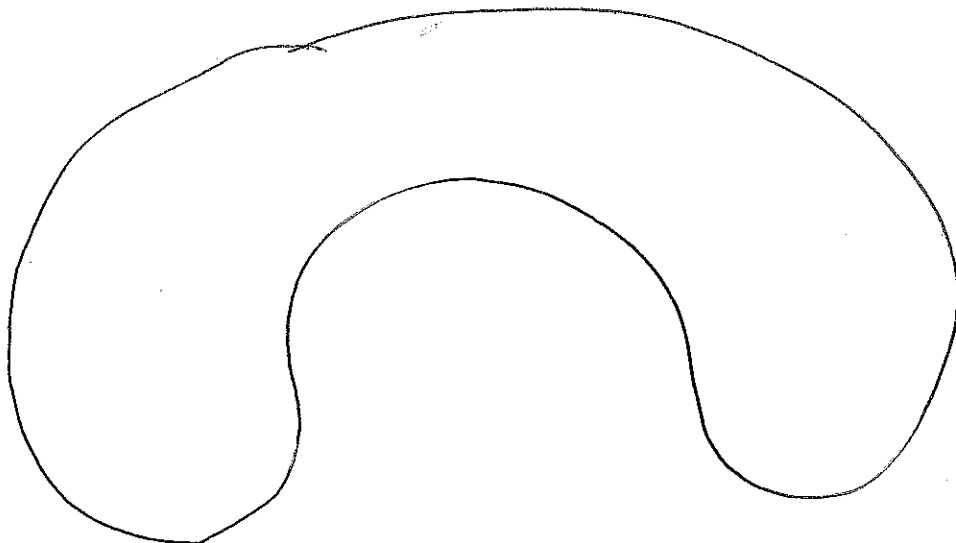

I wanted the directionality to be focused down, and for it to embody the cold blanket of sorrow.

Your age: 14 Your gender: M

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

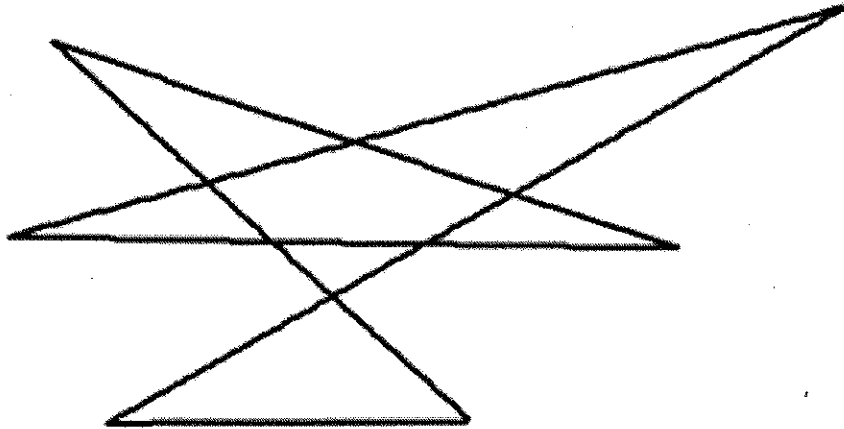

yours - straight lines, sharp edges, crossing of lines mine - smooth, no corners or crossing

yours is angry, mine is sad

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

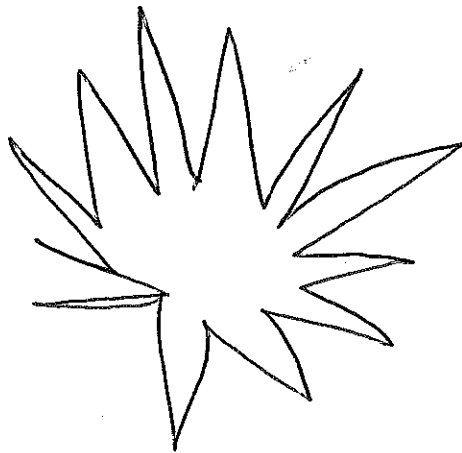

It's kind of like a frown and it felt sad

Your age: 22 Your gender: M

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

The shape I drew looks more agitated and "sharp".

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

I drew a lot of spikes in high frequency to demonstrate anger. This is similar to how I imagine angry people. Sharp \rightarrow dangerous and not fun to be around but overwhelming as well, \Rightarrow high frequency

Your age: 19 Your gender: M

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

Sharp edges, fast movement

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

When Angry = short pangs, rush of blood, irrational

Your age: 19 Your gender: F

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

seems like your hand would move like that if you were angry, more frantic/intense

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

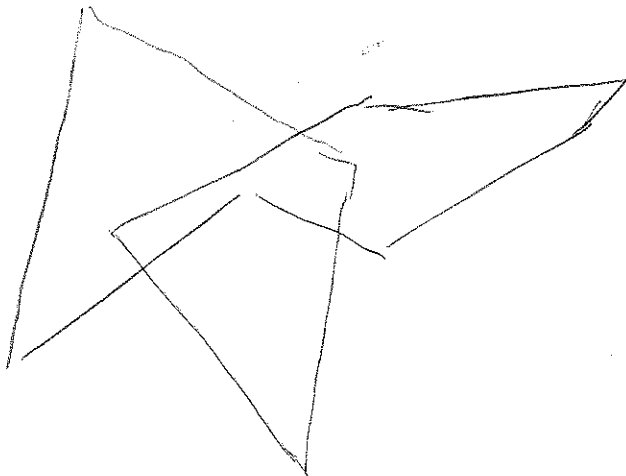

downward shapes are sadder

Your age: 19 Your gender: F

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

The right most point pointed down ~~and~~ in yours and up in mine.

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

The sharp point down with two angled points up seemed more angry than sad.

Your age: 19 Your gender: F

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

The angry shape you provided was sharp and the sad shape I drew was rounded.

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

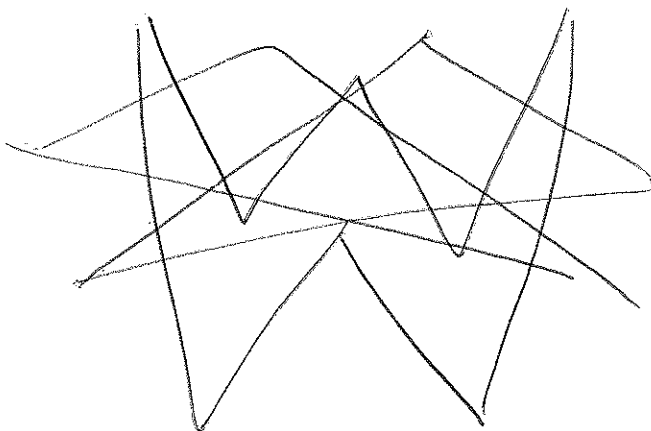

Because to me a sad shape would be less pointy and aggressive, more like a blob without form. Projecting myself into the shape when I'm sad I feel like a blob so maybe that's what I'm doing.

Your age: 19 Your gender: F

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

The shape provided mimics "ind" facial features & does softer line. My drawing is harsher w/ more edges & mimics a frowny brow.

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

When I think of something exciting, eye I think of cross/tight/hook line and something less calming/pleasing to the eye.

Your age: 19 Your gender: F

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

one has smooth soft lines while mine is more harsh and scattered / disruptive

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

jagged edges ~~in~~ are mean & angry in my opinion

Your age: 12 Your gender: F

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

Anger seems like it should be rough and sharp like the shape provided but Sad seems like it should be soft and droopy. I drew my shape like the one provided but made soft edges because that seems "sad" ~~more~~ to me.

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

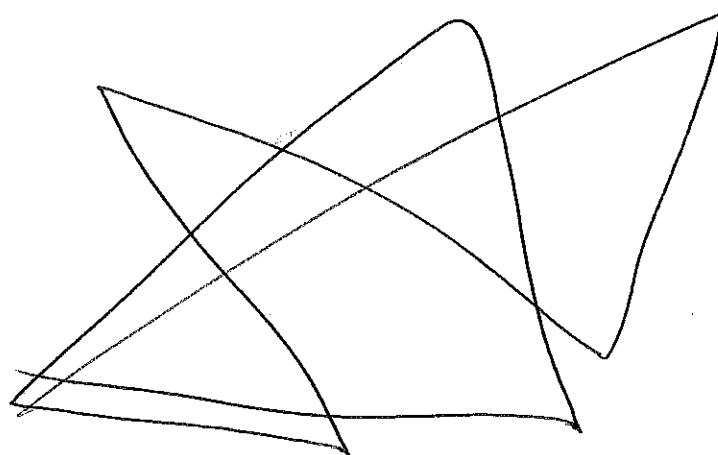

I made the curves rounded and hanging low which makes me think of a sad person. The softness comes from the vulnerability in a sad person, and makes me think of rounded edges. I drew the shape kind of in a frown because I think of people who are sad to be hunched over with a frown ~~on~~ on their face.

Your age: 27 Your gender: M

Is the above shape Sad or Angry? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

POINTS? POINTINESS.

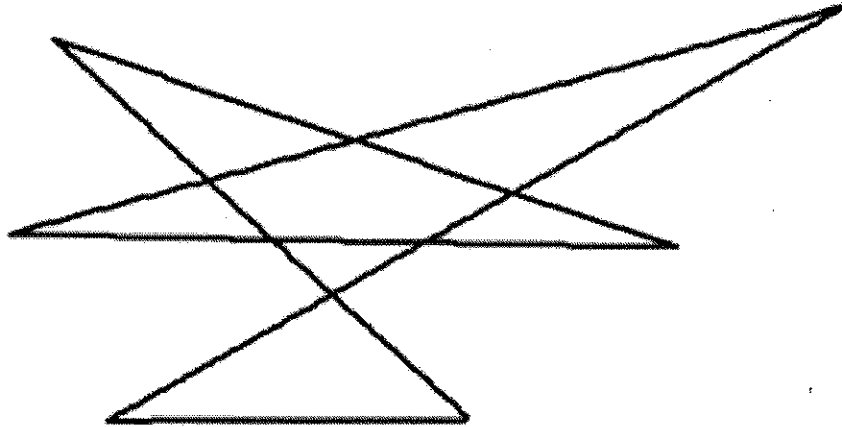

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

NOT TOTALLY SURE, PARTLY ITS
A CULTURAL THING, ACTUALLY,

BUT THE POINTY GUY IS DEFINITELY MORE 'ANGRY'. I ONLY CIRCLED THE OTHER GUY DUE TO LACK OF ANGER

- IT STILL AIN'T SAD

Your age: 24 Your gender: F

Is the above shape Sad or Angry? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

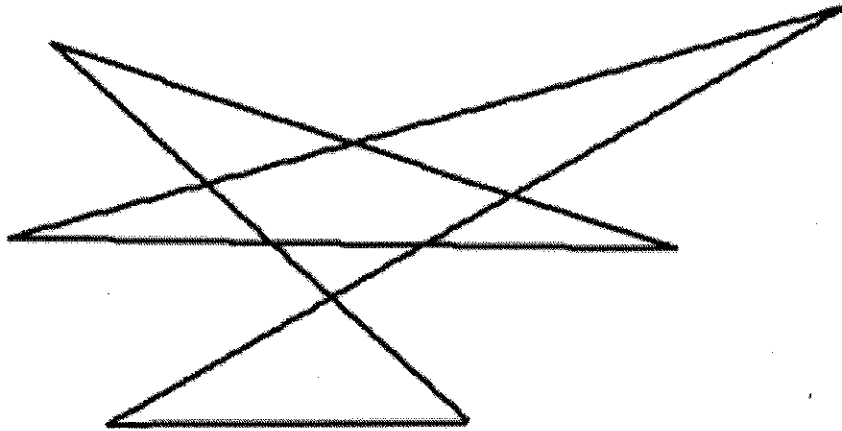

Anger: Angles, sharpness, acuteness, fragmented flow

Sadness is represented by a downward flow with rounded twists

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

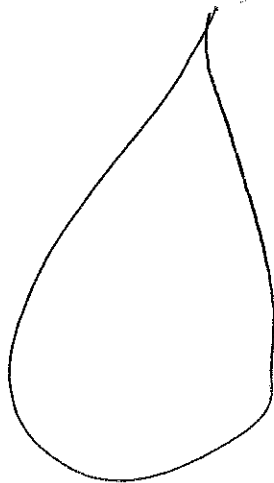

Because sadness can be soft, it's poignant

Is the above shape Sad or Angry? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

I perceive anger to be more pointed and sharp, versus sadness being somber, subdued, ~~flat~~ and curved.

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

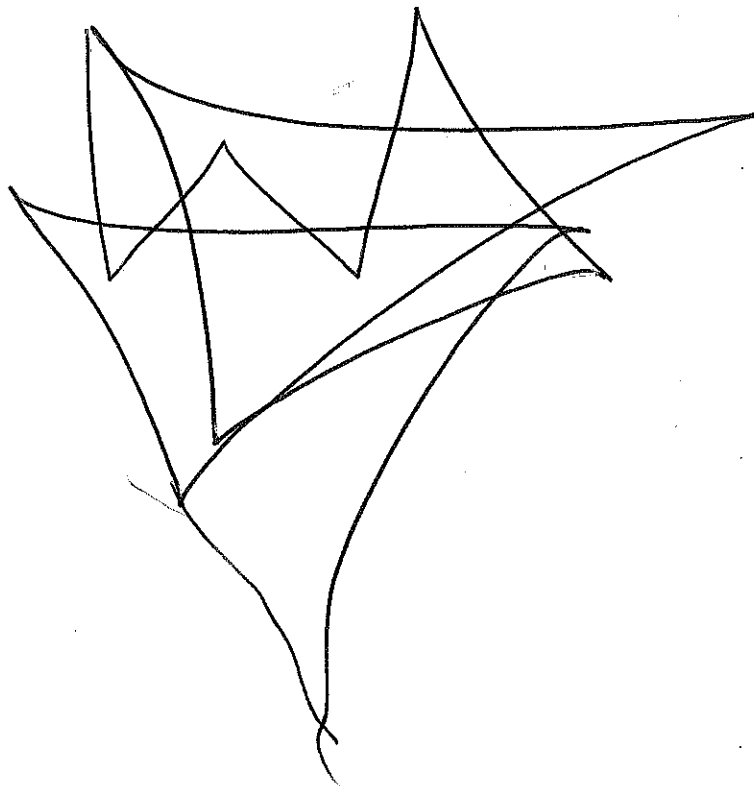

It seems like a sad shape, it doesn't even look like any of its other shape friends.

Your age: 20 Your gender: female

Is the above shape Sad or Angry? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

Sad shapes are curvy and like the rain.

Angry Shapes are more pointed

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

Because I wanted to express anger.

I also want for candy.

Your age: 50 Your gender: M

Is the above shape Sad or Angry? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

NO EYES

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

BECAUSE of my tendency to Anthropomorphise
everything.

Is the above shape Sad or Angry? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

Your shape was curvy + my shape was jagged w/ many points

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

Because it reminded me of clenched teeth + that is the image I get when I think of anger.

Is the above shape Sad or Angry? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

The edges. Angry to me is sharper, more jagged, while sad is smoother lines. Bottle edges were pointy,

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

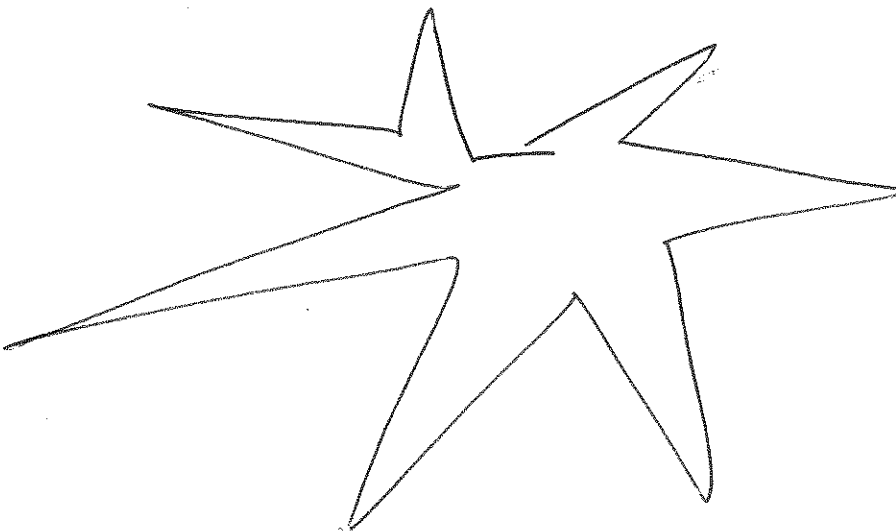

B/c anger is sharper, more cutting ^{+ loud}, while sad is quiet + smooth. So anger has points, sad is curved lines,
