Is the above shape Sad or Angry? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

Yours is "top heavy", representing the angry eyebrows of a human whilst mine is bottom heavy. It also looks like the fumes coming out of a volcano.

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

The bottom heavy part of my shape shows the great weight of sadness. As some person said, sadness is anger without enthusiasm.

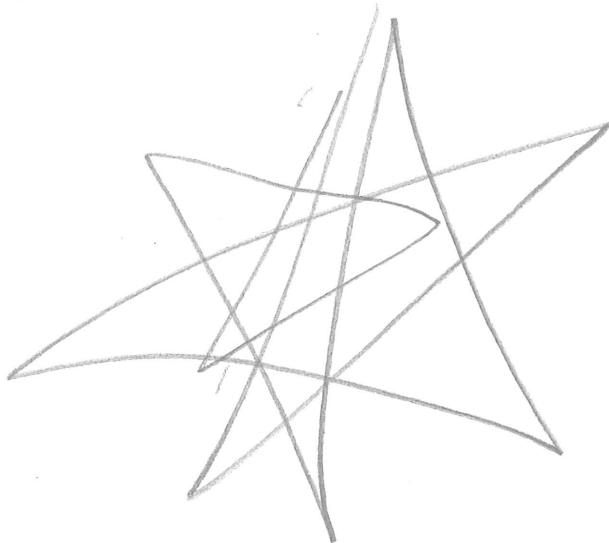

Your age: 20 Your gender: male

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

The provided shape is sharp, pointy, and complex.
But the shape that I drew is softer & with no complex lines in the shape.

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

When I think of anger, it's more pointy, biting, and sharp; while sadness is a much mushier emotion that is soft.

Your age: 18 Your gender: M

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Just less "pretty"

- more scribbles
- unorganized

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

If I were angry I would scribble in anger which would be messy and all over the place.

Your age: 22 Your gender: Female

Is the above shape Sad or Angry? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

The one I drew has points.

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

It looks like fingers, so I thought ~~that~~ that would show angles.

Your age: 19 Your gender: F

Is the above shape Angry or Sad? Circle one emotion.

Below, draw a shape based on the shape above
that has the emotion you did not circle:

What is different between the shape we provided and the shape you drew?

The provided shape was smooth and my shape
had sharp edges

Why did you draw your shape the way you did?

b/c anger is associated with harshness and roughness, and smooth edges seem to be the opposite of rough and harsh
